

Catalysts

Catalysts are used to cast Sorceries, with their Magic Adjustment (MagAdj) determining spell potency. Most scale with Intelligence, though a few have unique scaling. Different catalysts offer varying base and max Mag Adj, affecting spell damage and weapon buffs. Some catalysts, like the Tin Crystallization Catalyst, boast extremely high spell power but halve spell casts. Others may deal slightly more physical damage, offering limited melee utility. Choosing the right catalyst can dramatically affect a spellcaster's overall damage potential and casting strategy.
